Junior Dairy Show Set For Saturday

The annual Calloway County Junior Dairy Show will be held this Saturday on the Murray State College Campus at 9:00 a.m.

Only members of the 4-H club and FFA are eligible to show animals in this year's event.

The judging will take place on the campus and will begin at 10:00 a.m. Saturday morning.

There will be $225 in prize money awarded at the show this year.

The rules for the show state that all animals must be registered in the names of the 4-H and FFA members showing them, and each entry must be certified by the County Agent or agriculture agent.

All animals not halter broken and fitted for the show will automatically be placed in the "white ribbon" or fair group. This decision will be made by the judges. Only females are eligible to be shown. Those showing must have owned the animals since July 1, 1958.

Jerseys, guernseys and holsteins will show in separate classes.

The animals will be judged on the Danish system. Very good or blue ribbon (2X), good or red ribbon (2X), and fair or white ribbon (X).

4-H and FFA will show separately for showmanship only. Previous showmanship winners will be ineligible to compete again this year.

Eight classes of animals will be shown in this year's show. A Junior, Senior and Grand Champion will be selected from the blue ribbon winners in the various classes.

The rules also require that the animals be tested for tuberculosis and brucellosis 3 to 4 days prior to the show.

Gilston Walston is the chairman of the committee in charge of the show. Other committee members are John Faughn and Carman Parks.

Ribbons for the show will be furnished by the Calloway County Farm Bureau. Sponsors for the show will be the Ryan Milk Company, the Peoples Bank and the Bank of Murray.

West Europe Welcomes Ike's Peace Plan

LONDON (UPI) — Western Europe today welcomed President Eisenhower's peace plan as a realistic approach toward solving the chronic economic and political problems in the turbulent Middle East.

Official British sources said the plan had the complete support of the government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Nationalists Claim First Air Victory

TAIPEI (UPI) — The Chinese Nationalists, scoring their first air victory in more than two years, shot down at least two MiG's over the Formosa Strait today, it was announced here.

A Nationalist jet did not return from the dogfight 14 miles south of the Matsu Islands, officially because it was crippled by "engine failure." Search craft found no trace of the missing jet.

An Air Force spokesman said a downed MiG was seen by a U.S. destroyer escort saw "at least two" Red jets crash in flames. A third MiG was "missing from its flight formation" when it returned to the Red-held mainland, the spokesman said.

Authoritative Chinese sources said flatly three Communist planes were destroyed in the dogfight.

Eight MiG's tangled with seven U.S.-made Sabrejets in the third air battle reported so far in Nationalist China's "vest pocket war." The Communists shot down two Nationalist planes in an earlier encounter, and the Red radio said today they damaged two more in a clash Wednesday.

Communist artillery emplaced opposite the Quemoy Islands, at the other end of the Nationalist outpost chain, lobbed a long-range rocket shell onto the islands early today, the defense ministry announced.

It adds, however, "It is obvious that heavy smoking is not the sole cause. Lung cancer also occurs among those who do not smoke."

The cigarette industry vehemently challenges such findings. It takes the position that there is no conclusive evidence of a causal link between smoking and lung cancer.

In Calloway County, the PHS report shows, the number of deaths due to cancer in all its forms was lower, in proportion to population, than in most parts of the United States during the year.

The rate, among local residents, was 129 such deaths per 100,000 population, as compared with 147 per 100,000 for the nation.

It was higher, however, than the State of Kentucky rate, 127 per 100,000.

Dr. Paschall Will Preach In Paris Sunday

Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, of the First Baptist Church, Nashville, Tenn., will be the evangelist in a revival meeting to be held at the First Baptist Church, Paris, Tenn., August 18-24.

Dr. Paschall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Paschall of near Hazel, was formerly pastor of First Baptist Church of Bowling Green and the Hazel Baptist Church.

Dr. Forrest N. Heeren of Louisville will be the singer for this meeting. Dr. Heeren is Dean of the School of Sacred Music, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Services will be held each evening Monday through Friday, at 7:45. Sunday services will be at 10:55 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. There will be morning services Tuesday through Friday at 7:00 a.m. There will be no services Saturday.

Mr. & Mrs. Divelbiss Vacation In Canada

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Divelbiss returned Wednesday to Murray from a trip to Montreal, Canada where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moyer, former residents of Murray.

Their trip was a combination business and pleasure one. While in Canada Mr. Divelbiss worked for two weeks in the Canadian Tappan Plant.

Among the cities they visited included Quebec City, St. Agatha and St. Anna De Beaupre.

Mrs. Divelbiss was present at Windsor Station when Princess Margaret arrived for her state visit.

Enroute they visited Lake Placid and the St. Lawrence Seaway and other points of interest. One of the highlights of the trip was attending a night session of the Canadian Parliament. A tour through Greenfield Village completed the trip.

Lions Hold Meeting Tuesday Night

The Lions Club met Tuesday night at the Murray Women's Club House for their regular meeting.

Ty Holland, dean of high school coaches, presented the program giving his predictions and preview of the Murray High School football team for '58.

Holland also presented the school's coaching staff which consisted of Robert Glin, Jeffery, Eli Alexander and Dub Russell.

A new member, Pete Purdon was presented with a pin by Vanda Weather. Red Hale had as his guest, Tom Krupa, Forrest Riddle his son Chess and Randall Patterson brought Ollie Montgomery.

Two Injured In Balloon Fall Today

ASHLAND, Wis. (UPI) — An Air Force captain preparing for a space exploration flight and his civilian instructor were hospitalized today with serious injuries received when their open gondola balloon crashed in a pasture.

Capt. Grover D. Schock, 32, Galesburg, Ill., who was making his first balloon flight, and Otis Winzen, Minneapolis, developer of the balloon, were returning to earth after a test flight Wednesday night when the gondola plunged about 125 feet to the ground near Lake Superior.

Schock was reported in serious "critical condition today" at St. Joseph's Hospital here with possible leg and internal injuries. Winzen was in serious condition with a broken arm, two broken ribs and back injuries.

Schock was lowered in a pressure suit to the ground for a solo balloon flight 20 miles above the earth under conditions simulating those of a manned space trip. The experimental flight was designed to test human reactions to space exploration.

Spokesmen said it would be several weeks before another man could be readied for the planned flight.

Air Force officials said Schock and Winzen were approaching a landing in strong winds after about 12 hours aloft when something went wrong.

Observers said the balloonists frantically dropping ballast and apparently trying to steer the gondola into the lake to soften the shock of the crash when it hit ground about a half-mile from the water.

Gordon Shickel, an Ashland fireman and member of the Civil Air Patrol who was tracking the peppermint-striped balloon, said the balloonists were about 125 feet from the ground when the gondola became separated from the balloon. The gondola parachuted — partially — a few feet above the ground.

Mr. & Mrs. Tabers Visit New Grandson

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Tabers left this morning for Nashville, Tenn., to see their new grandson born Wednesday, August 14th in a Nashville hospital. The new baby, named Gerald Keith, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tabers and weighed eight pounds and nine ounces.

England Backs Ike's 6 Point Peace Plan For Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd gave full support today to President Eisenhower's six-point peace plan for the Middle East and called for private talks at the United Nations to arrange details.

Eisenhower proposed a do-it-yourself economic program on Wednesday for the Arab world. He suggested establishment of a U.N. standby peace force and emphasized the need for action to safeguard Lebanon and Jordan.

Lloyd told the General Assembly's emergency session today he thought it would be "unwise" to go into details of these plans at this stage.

"One of the advantages of our meeting here is that we have the opportunity of private consultation and discussion," he said.

Magazine Sales People Held In County Jail

In a hearing held in the county judge's office this morning, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Simpson of Rankins, Miss., were charged with having confederations with persons who had taken property of others with the purpose of converting that property to their own use.

Mrs. Rosemary Parker of Sedalia, Mo., waived examining trial and a fourth person, Lee McCoy, also of Sedalia, was charged when he admitted that he was also connected with the Simpsons.

The bond of the four was set at $1,500 each. They failed to post bond and are being held in Calloway County Jail.

The Simpsons and Mrs. Parker were arrested yesterday afternoon after they appeared at the home of J. H. Rogers of Lynn Grove and sold him 730 worth of magazine subscriptions. Mr. Rogers stated in court this morning that Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Simpson appeared at his house about 3:00 p.m. and tried to sell him some magazines. He explained that he did not want any magazines because he did not do much reading. Mrs. Simpson then stated that she knew his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Glen Rogers, and that she wanted a certain magazine which he should buy for her.

Mrs. Simpson then explained, according to Rogers, that money was going to children who had been stricken with polio. Mr. Rogers bought three subscriptions which he paid for with a $7.30 check.

Later, his son, Glen Rogers, became suspicious and went to Lynn Grove where he learned that the check had been cashed for $73 and not for $7.30.

Glen called Sheriff Cohen Stubblefield, who with his wife, rushed to Lynn Grove in search of the money. The two were found at the home of Allen Rogers trying to make a magazine sale. They were arrested and brought back to Murray.

The $73 was found in an envelope in the possession of one of the women.

When the Stubblefields were taking the two into the Calloway County Court House, Simpson, who was sitting on a bench on the East side of the court house, approached the four and explained that he was the husband of Mrs. Simpson. He was quickly arrested.

McCoy was arrested by Murray City Police this morning at a service station where he came to pick up his car after it had been serviced. The police had received a call stating that a man who was in the magazine selling business had left his car yesterday and was to pick it up this morning. Two officers were waiting for him when he arrived at the station. It was learned that he was connected with the other three salespeople.

According to Mrs. Parker, the four worked for the National Literary League Book Company of Jackson, Miss. However, when Simpson called the company this morning, they stated that they would not send a lawyer or any other type of help for the four.

Simpson stated in court that he had been with the company for about six years and that he was the district sales manager. He had been with the company only a short time.

KLM Constellation Crashes In Atlantic

Bulletin

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — A KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Superconstellation with 99 persons aboard, including at least 46 Americans, crashed into the stormy north Atlantic today on flight from Amsterdam to New York. A French fishing vessel reported it had spotted survivors on a life raft.

Officials of the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines conceded that the wreckage of a plane sighted 130 miles west of Shannon was theirs. They feared the death toll was heavy.

Several American passengers were aboard the aircraft, which left Shannon Airport at 4:05 a.m. today (11:05 p. m. e.d.t.). Wednesday night headed for Gander, Newfoundland.

The British Air Ministry said the Shackleton search plane which spotted the wreckage was directing ships to the scene.

KLM officials said there were 99 passengers — including 83 adults, five children and three babies — and a crew of eight on the Superconstellation which disappeared between Shannon, Ireland, and Gander, Newfoundland, on an Amsterdam-to-New York flight.

KLM Royal Dutch Airlines announced officially that there were at least 35 Americans aboard the Superconstellation that crashed in the Atlantic off the Irish coast today.

The plane's pilot made his last routine radio contact with Shannon at 11:40 p.m. e.d.t. Wednesday night, 35 minutes after he had taken off from the Irish airport following a routine stop-over.

After that there was nothing but silence. Air officials said the KLM aircraft probably hit a violent wind and rain squall shortly after leaving Shannon.

The plane left Shannon Airport at 11:05 p.m. Wednesday night and was due in Gander at 7:15 a.m. today. The pilot made a routine radio contact with Shannon at 11:40 p.m. e.d.t. when the plane was approximately 200 miles west of the Irish airport.

The U.S. Coast Guard in New York said the pilot told the Shannon control tower at that time he was heading for a point in the ocean 55 degrees north and 30 degrees west—850 miles west of Gander.

A Pan American Airways cargo plane reported at 9:08 a.m. that it had picked up an SOS at a point approximately 450 miles east of Gander.

In New York, a KLM official said the Superconstellation carried several inflatable rubber life rafts and other survival gear for use in the event of a crash at sea. He said the rafts were equipped with food, water and a portable radio for sending emergency messages. He added that the plane had an adequate number of life jackets aboard and each passenger had been instructed in their use before takeoff.

General Says Good Chance Of Blasting Robot Near Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top Air Force general said today the United States has a "50-50" chance of blasting an instrument-carrying robot to the vicinity of the moon in the first lunar probe launching expected next week.

La. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commander of the Air Research and Development Command, gave his first evaluation of the lunar rocket mounted at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, previously had estimated the chance of success in the first lunar shot at "no better than on in a million."

However, Johnson's estimate applied to a different degree of success. In the achievement he spoke of, the radio-equipped robot would pass at least once around the moon and would transmit to earth a picture of the moon's far side which has never been seen.

Mother Of Singer Presley Dies In Memphis Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mrs. Vernon Presley, 42, mother of rock and roll entertainer Elvis Presley, died in a Memphis hospital early today, apparently of a heart attack.

Her husband was at her side when she died, but Elvis was at his $100,000 mansion "Graceland" in suburban Whitehaven.

Elvis has been here on an emergency leave since Tuesday night, shortly after Mrs. Presley was admitted to the hospital for treatment of a liver ailment.

northeast of Gander and 700 miles west of Shannon — from which he would make another radio check at about 2:51 a.m.

But there was only silence after that, and a vast international air and sea search effort got underway in the early hours this morning.

The first to sight the wreckage was the pilot of a British Overseas Airways Corporation plane en route from London.

He promptly radioed that his radar had picked up spots that he thought might be wreckage. The RAF Shackleton sped to the scene and reported seeing bodies and wreckage in the water.

KLM announced that most of the passengers were not Dutch. A spokesman said they belonged to "at least 10 different nationalities."

KLM headquarters in The Hague said that the crew consisted of the captain, two co-pilots, one radio operator, two stewards, one stewardess and one flight engineer.

The radar sighting of the wreckage by the BOAC pilot was apparently the first definite word about the missing plane since its last contact with Shannon. Officials at first thought the sightings might have caused a radio blackout that prevented the Dutch pilot from further communication.

A Pan American Airways cargo plane reported at 9:08 a.m. that it had picked up an SOS at a point approximately 450 miles east of Gander.

At any of those times then the lunar launching must be postponed until mid-September.

The Defense Department, in a formal statement commenting on the reports, confirmed there are only four days in each month and only a few minutes in each of those days when the relative positions of the earth and moon will permit a lunar probe launching.

BILL MAZEROSKI

A .320 batting average over the last seven games gives some idea why Bill Mazerowski is regarded as the key man behind the Pittsburgh Pirates' current drive on the front-running Milwaukee Braves.

The Pirates achieved their longest winning streak in nine years, seven straight, with a 10-9 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night.

The 21-year old second baseman contributed two hits that drove in three runs.

During the Pirates' seven-game skid, Mazerowski has collected 18 hits in 25 at-bats and driven in 17 runs. The son of a Wheeling, W. Va., coal miner, Mazerowski is regarded as the best fielding second baseman in the majors.

Whatever Happened To

CHARLEY ROBERTSON

United Press International

Charley Robertson, then a right handed pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, pitched a perfect game against the Detroit Tigers on April 30, 1922, not a batter reaching first base. There were none other in the major leagues until Don Larsen of the Yankees did it against the Dodgers in the 1956 World Series. Robertson was a major leaguer for eight seasons, five with the White Sox, one with the Browns and two with Boston's National League club. Despite his perfect game, there never was a season in which he won more than he lost.

Whatever happened to Charley Robertson? Now 61, he is engaged in the pecan business in Fort Worth, Tex.

Milwaukee Braves Set Out To Win Pennant By Old Methods; Stomping The Cincinnati Reds

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

It looks like the Milwaukee Braves are out to win the 1958 National League pennant the same way they won the 1957 flag — by stomping all over the Cincinnati Reds.

And even the streaking, miracle-hoping Pittsburgh Pirates won't be able to do much about it if the Braves keep knocking off the Redlegs at a 800-pace, as they have been doing the past two years.

The Braves, rocked by two straight losses in Pittsburgh, returned to the winning track Wednesday night when they picked on their favorite "cousins" for 9-2 and 4-2 victories. The sweep built the Braves' lead back to 3 1/2 games despite the fact the second-place Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 10-9, and the third-place San Francisco Giants drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals, 11-2.

The Braves ripped the Redlegs apart, 18-4, last season and have a 10-3 edge this year making a two-year domination of 28-7 for 800.

Sluggers Go To Work

Juan Pizarro pitched a seven-hitter in the first game for the Braves and Lew Burdette came through with a six-hitter in the nightcap. The Braves' long-ball sluggers were at work as usual against Cincinnati pitching.

Joe Adcock blasting a three-run first-inning homer in the opener and Ed Mathews and Andy Pafko homering in the nightcap.

Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazeroski drove in seven runs between them as the Pirates stretched their winning streak to seven games — longest for the club in nine years. Clemente knocked in four runs with homers in his first two at-bats and Mazeroski, batting .520 over the three games, drove in three with a homer and a single.

Three-run homers by Willie Mays and Valmy Thomas were the big blows for the Giants who routed the Cleveland Indians, 6-3, in a 2-1, 11-inning loss in the first game of their two-night doubleheader.

The Senators, who hadn't beaten the Yankees since Sept. 20, 1954, racked five up with five runs in the eighth inning as the Yankees suffered their fourth loss in five games. Roy Sievers hit his 33rd homer for the Senators.

Tigers Extend Streak

Paul Foytack won the opener for the Tigers with the help of a five-run fifth-inning rally as they routed the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, in the nightcap.

With two more victories, the Tigers won their third win in the nightcap.

Out Of Cellar

The Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in the other National League game when pinch-hitter Elmer Valo doubled home Don Zimmerman in the ninth. The victory lifted the Dodgers out of last place into seventh.

In the American League, the Washington Senators extended the New York Yankees' "slump" with a 9-4 drubbing. The Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, and the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, and the Chicago White Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3, in a 2-1, 11-inning loss in the first game of their two-night doubleheader.

Today's Sports Parade

By JACK CUDDY

United Press International
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Coach Chuck Dressen said today, "believe the club's reappointment of Walt Alston may boost the Dodgers into the first division, at least, this season." Dressen, whom many sports writers had figured as the immediate successor to Manager Alston, added, "Of course, it will be a tough pull—but the boost to the team's morale may turn the trick."

When the large band of sports writers entered the suite at the Statler Hotel Wednesday night, they found a man in a white suit, white shirt and tie on one side of the conference room and gray-suited Alston in white sports sweater on the other side — they thought for sure they heard the whizzing of the ax.

Reporters Surprised
And when general manager Buzzie Bavasi, after announcing changes in the playing hours of three games, said that in view of the Dodgers' "astounding" 9-3 beating by the Cubs Tuesday night, it was time to decide who will manage the club—the sports writers were sure of the ax-whiz.

Then Bavasi surprised the news men by stating: "My choice is Walt Alston, and always has been. And he wants his coaches to continue with him next season. He and the coaches will be back in the '59 season." No new contract had been signed, Bavasi said, because the reappointment had been decided upon only a few hours before the announcement.

Plan Youth Movement
The manager and the coaches will remain for another season, but many of the players will not, Bavasi stressed, particularly the older players. A youth movement will start this season, just as soon as Dodger farm clubs finish their '58 campaigns and their most promising youngsters can be brought into Los Angeles—"youngsters with speed and hustle."

New men who may be brought in at the close of the '58 minor-league campaigns include outfielder Don Miller and third baseman Al Norris of the Victoria, Tex., club; outfielder Frank Howard and third baseman Earl Robinson of Green Bay, Wis.; southpaw pitcher Bobby Gansbardi of Montreal; outfielder Ron Fairly of Des Moines, Ia.; and third baseman Dick Gray of St. Paul, Minn.

CANAL DEEPENED
PORT SAID, U.A.R. (UPI) — The Suez Canal Authority said today 35-foot draft ships will be able to transit the waterway beginning Aug. 31. The maximum draft of vessels now using the canal is 34 feet.

WERE THEY SURPRISED!
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — The sheriff's office here received a call Wednesday from Brown County Sheriff Ray Masters, saying he was holding one of their prisoners 125 miles away. The Johnson City authorities admitted they didn't know the man had escaped.

MORE TIME TO COOL OFF
ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI) — Orville Chellette, convicted of disturbing the peace at a cafe, had his sentence doubled from 30 to 60 days when he turned to the witnesses who had testified against him and shouted: "That's all right, the rest of you liars can go home now."

DRAW STIFF SENTENCES
BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — Five men and two women have been sentenced to terms of hard labor for hiding former Iraqi Premier Nuri es Said before he was caught disguised in women's clothing and killed during the recent revolt.

The "Corner of Celebrities" is a two-block area in Frankfurt in which it is claimed, more famous persons have lived than in any other area of the same size in the world. Here lived two U.S. Supreme Court justices, two cabinet officers, nine U.S. senators, six U.S. representatives, seven governors, seven foreign representatives, three admirals and three generals.

CONFINED TO QUARTERS—
"Spunk," known at Fort Benning, Georgia, as the 29th Infantry's "Courageous Canine," looks none too happy about his 14-day confinement for doing an about-face and snapping a sergeant. The mascot of the 29th has made a name for himself with his helicopter-borne attacks and working out with track team.

CLOSEUP OF THE MOON—This graphic photo of the moon was taken from the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, D. C. The United States is planning to try and send a satellite into orbit around the moon, during the end of this month.

Miss Anna Beth Roberts Weds
Lt. Larry Joe Cotton August 9

MRS. LARRY JOE COTTON

The marriage of Miss Anna Beth Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Roberts and Lieutenant Larry Joe Cotton, son of Mrs. R. J. Eli and the late Garland Cotton of Dawson Springs, took place at the home of the bride on August 9 at six o'clock in the evening.

The double ring, candlelight ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. M. T. Robertson.

Proceeding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Charles Elder, organist, Mrs. Bobby McDougal, soloist, sang "I Love Thee", Greg and "Ave Marie", Bach-Gounod. She sang "Song of Ruth" for the benediction. The traditional wedding march was used for the processional.

The vows were exchanged before the fireplace in the living room, which was decorated with greenery, gladioli, majestic daisies and bells of Ireland. Wrought iron branched candelabra, encased with huckleberry, holding glowing ivory tapers and tied with satin bows, were placed on either side of the fireplace. The archway, where the bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor length gown of white satin and charmingly lace. The basque was buttoned down the back and fashioned with a natural scalloped neckline, accented with pearls. The long tapering lace sleeves extended into points over the wrists and fastened with tiny satin and lace buttons and accented with seed pearls. The skirt was over tiered ruffled slips and hoops and fell gracefully into a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of lace, embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies. Her jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bride chose as her maid of honor, Miss Jane Baker. She wore a gown of pale green chiffon, having a full skirt with flowing panels extending to the hemline. Her head band was of matching chiffon in leaf design, accented with pearls and worn with a nose veil. Her bouquet was of yellow rose buds and ivy.

Thomas Darnell of Hornbeak, Tenn., served as best man. The candles were lighted by Edward Roberts and Monte McNabb, brother and cousin of the bride. The bride's mother chose a coffee re-embroidered lace sheath over polished cotton, with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The groom's mother was attired in a pale pink dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was gardenias.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride. The table, overlaid with pale green net over taffeta, featured a tiered wedding cake, topped with yellow roses and lily of the valley. The cake was decorated with greenery and yellow rose buds. A floral arrangement of six mums, tulips, carnations, bells of Ireland, daisies and greenery with white satin streamers, flanked with three-branched candelabra completed the table decorations.

Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Silver computes with nuts and party mints completed the table.

Mrs. Gail Purdy and Mrs. G. A. Brown, sisters of the groom, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Edward Simmons, sister of the groom, served the wedding

Also assisting in the serving were Mrs. Joe Orr, Miss Carolyn Williams, Mrs. Phillip Cotton and Miss Benita Maddox. Mrs. Sandra Elliot presided at the brides register.

Mrs. Claiborne Adams and Mrs. Mason Ross had charge of the reception. Hostesses were Mrs. Edwin Greenfield and Mrs. Wade McNabb. Following the reception the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida. For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece suit of navy silk, shantung with navy and white accessories. White roses were pinned at her shoulder.

To Be Married

Miss Nancy Graf

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Graf, St. Louis, Mo., announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Margaret, to Joe Wayne Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dyer, Trenton, Tenn. The wedding will be August 16 at 7:30 in the evening in the College Presbyterian Church.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony.

Bridesmaids Attend Luncheon At Home Of Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Walter Jones was hostess in her home Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 to a bridesmaids luncheon for her daughter, Miss Sally Jones and Miss Jones' attendants. Miss Jones is the bride-elect of A. B. Crass.

Guests were seated at tables lavishly covered with pink dotted swiss cloths and each table was centered with wedding bows filled with daisies and ivy. Gifts were presented by Miss Jones to her attendants, Mesdames Walter Jones, Jr., and Sam Crass, and Mesdames Rosemary Jones and Jenny Sue Stubblefield.

Those chosen to serve at the reception were presented a gift by Miss Jones. They are Misses Peggy Sue Shroat, Fedelia Austin, Donna Tuck, Judy Barnett, Benita Maddox, Betty Foust and Mrs. Charlie Elders.

Wedding Plans Are Complete For Miss Jones-Mr. Crass

Wedding plans have been completed for the wedding of Miss Sally Jones and A. B. Crass. The wedding will be the first to be solemnized in the First Christian Church since the church was rebuilt several months ago.

The wedding will take place Sunday, August 17 at 4:00 in the afternoon with Rev. Paul T. Lyles officiating.

Miss Jenny Sue Stubblefield will attend the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Walter Jones, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, will serve as matron of honor. Miss Rosemary Jones and Sam Crass, sorority sisters of the bride, have been chosen as bridesmaids.

Mr. Sam Crass, brother of the groom, will attend Mr. Crass as bestman. Mr. Walter Jones, Jr., Mr. Jimmy Doran, Mr. Fred Wells, Mr. Ted Biffington and Mr. Max Harris will serve as ushers at the ceremony.

Mrs. Richard Farrell will present a program of nuptial music with Mrs. Charlie Elders as vocalist. The reception will be immediately after the ceremony in the church parlor. Miss Fedelia Austin will preside at the guest register. Miss Peggy Sue Shroat and Miss Donna Tuck will serve.

Others helping at the reception will be Misses Betty Foust, Sandra Kyle, Judy Barnett, Benita Maddox, Deanie Henton, Owensboro; Mesdames Maurice Crass, Jr., and Becky Crogran, Carmi, Ill. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Jr. Crass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Crass.

Social Calendar

Jaycees and their wives will meet at 6:00 in the evening at the Kentucky Lake Pavilion for a picnic, dancing and games. Each family is requested to bring enough food for themselves. Soft drinks will be sold at the pavilion.

Chandler-Comedian Meet Today For "Goof" Championship

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Gov. A. B. Chandler's "goof" game faced a something less than stern

FIFTH SON FOR BING—Crooner Bing Crosby, 54, is all smiles as he leaves the Queen of Angels Hospital, Los Angeles, after the birth of a son to his wife, actress Kathy Grant, 24. The infant (left) weighed seven pounds, nine ounces at birth. The proud papa, who seems to be saying "Have a cigar," has four sons by his first wife, the late Dixie Lee Crosby.

THE BACKYARD CHEF has to keep track of time and remember to spoon flavorful barbecue sauce over the turkey every 15 minutes. Basting will help cook the bird to perfection.

This Cook-out's Different

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHEN a backyard barbecue chef dons his apron and steps up to the grill, everyone knows what's cooking—steak or burgers. For a welcome change, why not surprise them with a menu that's different? So many other meats make marvelous barbecue meals.

Economical Entrée
Cook up half a turkey—it's economical, easy to handle and a good choice to serve a small group. For tantalizing flavor, baste frequently with sauce and make a neat and safe job of it by using quilted broiling foil to prevent flare-ups from basting and drippings.

Tackle a shish kebab but not the standard lamb kind. Liverwurst and garlic sausage combine for a delicious variation. Whole fresh mushrooms, green peppers, tomatoes and onions go on the skewers, too. It's easy cooking, but looks so impressive that it is sure to send your reputation as a chef skyrocketing.

Barbecued Half Turkey: Place half a turkey weighing 4 to 5 lbs. on a 24-in. length of quilted broiling foil, turned up 2 in. all around to form a 24-in. pan to catch drippings. Combine 1 tbsp. salt, 1 tsp. monosodium glutamate, 1 tsp. soy sauce and ½ c. cooking oil and baste turkey.

Place turkey, breast side down, on grid over hot coals for 30 min. Baste with remaining sauce every 15 min. Turn turkey and cook 30 min.,

SPEAR THE SKEWER through quilted foil to cover kebabs top and bottom and prevent over-cooking and flare-ups.

cut side down. Turn breast side down and continue cooking 1½ to 2 hrs. longer until an internal temperature of 160° F. is reached. Serves 6 to 8.

Sausage Kebabs: Peel casing from 1½ lbs. liverwurst and slice into twelve 1½-in. squares. Cut 1½ lbs. garlic sausage into twelve 1½-in. squares. Wash 12 whole fresh mushrooms and cut off stem end. Cut 2 green peppers into twelve 1½-in. squares. Quarter 3 tomatoes. Drain 1 (8-oz.) can whole onions. Place meat and vegetables in mixing bowl.

Combine 2 tbsp. soy sauce, 1½ c. cooking oil, 1 tsp. monosodium glutamate. Four over

Fertilizer Helps Trees In Malady

LEXINGTON, Ky. — How an application of ammonium nitrate served as a stimulant to "stuck" sugar maple trees, helping them to overcome their condition, is related by N. R. Elliott, horticulturist at the University of Kentucky.

Three maples, about 8 inches in diameter, died in less than 20 days last summer on the university campus after their leaves "looked as though they had been dipped in boiling water," and soon dropped off.

At the first sign of trouble on other infected trees, ammonium nitrate was applied to the ground under the spread of the branches and a little beyond. Mr. Elliott said. One pound of fertilizer was used to each inch of trunk diameter up to 15 inches. The trees were then watered liberally to dissolve the fertilizer.

While Mr. Elliott says this treatment should not be construed as being a sure cure for the trouble, all treated trees have survived, including those affected last summer.

Letters describing similar maple-tree conditions have been received from 27 different counties in the state, Mr. Elliott said.

BOY BEATER CAUGHT—Joseph Bueck, 19, Elmwood Park, Ill., looks real mean in custody of Chicago police after admitting he stripped and beat an 11-year-old boy in a cemetery. Two years before, he was arrested for a crime against a small boy, and psychiatric treatment was recommended.

Middle East Studded With Hot Spots

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Middle East is studded with hot spots that could inflame the present crisis.

Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq, of course, are the chief danger points.

But there are sensitive situations in such seldom-mentioned places as Kuwait, Yemen, Libya and the Sudan.

In addition, there is great tension along the frontier between Turkey on one side and Syria and Iraq on the other.

Great Britain has been alarmed by the disclosure that Sheikh Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah, ruler of its little protectorate of Kuwait, has conferred twice with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Kuwait, on the Persian Gulf, is the greatest oil producing center in the whole Middle East, and one of the greatest in the world.

It has long been known there is a strong pro-Nasser element in Kuwait, and as a precaution Britain is reinforcing its troops in the neighboring sheikhdom of Bah-Bahrain.

Yemen Needles Brain

Kuwait's oil is vitally important to Britain. A British commentator discussing a possible blow-up there, has said Kuwait is more important to Britain economically than Gibraltar, Malta and Cyprus put together.

Cairo dispatches say Yemen, the belligerent little kingdom at the tip of the Arabian Peninsula, has informed Arab League headquarters in Cairo that Britain is massing troops on its border "in preparation for aggression."

Yemen also has given this notification to the high command of the United Arab Republic, with which it is now affiliated.

Yemen has been attacking Britain's protectorate of Aden sporadically for several years and openly hopes to take it over.

Its allegation of British troop movements might be a build-up for new raids across the Yemen frontier at this time.

It was made known during the week end that Britain has reinforced its troops in Libya, adjoining Egypt on the west.

Egypt Stirs Trouble

Egyptian agents have been stirring up trouble in Glibya ever since Nasser seized power in an attempt to undermine King Idris.

Britain started reinforcing its troops when it received intelligence reports of a plot to overthrow Idris.

Relations are bad also between Egypt and the Sudan, adjoining it on the south. Nasser has tried vainly to lure the Sudan into his orbit. On Saturday, the Sudanese government expelled the counselor of the Egyptian embassy in Khartoum, the capital, on the ground he had started effecting contact with subversive elements as soon as he arrived here four days previously.

In addition to these situations Syria has sent strong military forces to the Lebanese frontier in an obvious attempt to encourage the rebels there.

And Turkey has put its forces on the alert along its frontiers with both Syria and Iraq.

Cancer "Cure" To Receive Final Test

By DELOS SMITH

UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — In the view of Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, professor of physiology at the University of Illinois, scientists at the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research are proving he is right about the controversial cancer drug, "krebiozen," which has been rejected both by organized cancer research and by organized medicine.

Ivy has just advanced his views in a letter to Dr. Harold S. Diehl, vice president for research and medical affairs of the American Cancer Society.

The society's scientific committee has been considering since February whether to give "krebiozen" a "double blind test" that would establish once and for all whether it is effective against cancer or worthless.

He pointed to the Sloan-Kettering announcement that zymosan, a substance taken from yeast, stimulated the natural chemical cancer defenses of mice, "topping the scales in favor of the endangered host and against the cancer," Sloan-Kettering added that zymosan was too toxic to use in human beings with cancer.

Also Too Toxic

Ivy said "krebiozen" was derived from a mold, "a relative of yeasts." This mold also is too toxic for human use, he said. But when it is injected into horses,

Since 1925, Ivy said, he has been teaching that the human body has natural chemical defenses because "perhaps in one out of 100,000 cases the body of the patient cures itself of cancer." This is the theory upon which "krebiozen" is based. Ivy

CHAPTER 32

AS MARTHA KILGORE'S horse picked his way up the dark, rocky canyon trail, the very blackness and loneliness of the narrow strip of sky overhead seemed to multiply the girl's fears. She was afraid that somehow, somewhere along this dark and lonely trail she would find Slade Conside—as she had found Jim Ned Wheeler earlier in the afternoon—dead. It had been many hours since she left him, hours in which anything might have happened.

She was wondering how late it was when from down the canyon behind her she thought she heard a horse nicker. She felt rather than saw her own horse throw up his head to answer. She pulled him to a standstill and listened.

For a moment there was only silence and the distant hooting of an owl. Then from below she heard the unmistakable sound of a horse's hoofs striking the rocky trail fast, as if it were coming at alope.

Because he was so completely in her thoughts, in that first moment of exquisite relief, it never occurred to Martha that the rider might be anyone other than Slade Conside. She forgot that he had been shot when she left him, and that Jim Ned's riders dived had already found his way home before she left the ranch.

"Slade?" she called.

Abruptly the sound of the horse's steps stopped, then came on again more slowly.

"Who is that?" Wynne Thomas's voice called sharply.

All of the girl's fear came rushing back. She waited until Wynne was closer, then she said calmly, "It's Martha."

"Martha! For gosh sakes, what are you doing here? There was panic in his strangely hoarse voice.

Martha's heart was hammering hard in her throat, but she answered calmly enough, "I'm looking for Slade."

"Slade?"

By now Martha had collected her wits and had her story ready. "Yes, Jim Ned was accidentally killed this afternoon. He was thrown from his horse and dragged to death. Slade and I found him. He put the body on his horse, then sent me over the hill to wait where it was warm and sunny, while he came back to see if he could find Jim Ned's horse. I waited all afternoon and when he didn't come back I got worried and decided I had better start to look for him."

"Gosh, that's sure too bad! But you don't need to worry about Slade! There isn't any way that a man afoot could really hurt himself in the woods. You better

Let me take you home now and if he hasn't showed up at French's in the morning, I'll get word to him and he'll get out a posse to look for him."

His words were right, but there was a strained, unnatural tone to his voice that put Martha's jumpy nerves on edge.

"He said something about going up to the Valle Medio," she said mildly. "I'd like to look that far at least before I turn back."

"No sense in doing that," Wynne's voice took on a sharp, raspy tone. "I been up there all day."

Martha was momentarily checked. He had eased his horse up alongside and slightly behind her, turned halfway across the trail. She could never squeeze past him if he had wanted to stop her.

"I suppose you're right," she said slowly, then deliberately let a little quaver come into her voice. "But I've been so darned worried and scared, Wynne. And cold! You don't suppose he'd just go off and forget about me, do you?"

She got the results she had been hoping for. The helpless, feminine appeal in her voice revived in Wynne a never quite abandoned hope. He turned his horse's head to let her move up beside him again.

"You poor kid!" he said tenderly. "I don't wonder you were nervous! I think you're a mighty brave little girl to wait as long as you did."

Martha waited for the exact moment when he leaned from his saddle to lay his hand over hers, then she dug her right spur sharply into her horse. He lunged forward, and Wynne was too taken by surprise to have time to stop her.

"Wynne! Within a dozen yards the girl yanked her horse up again, her eyes sighting for the first time a reddish glow against the rock-rimmed sky up ahead.

"That looks like a fire!"

"Tony's burning the old grass," Wynne's voice sounded strained and urgent. "I thought maybe I could kill the larkspur that way. I was just riding up to help him watch it. You had better go on home, Martha. The Valle's no place for a girl this time of night."

But Martha had not heard the last of what he said. She had put spurs to her horse. She leaned low in the saddle, wondering if Wynne might even shoot to try to stop her, and again the sickening dread fear that Slade Conside might be dead swept over her.

At the gap she pulled up her horse, staring at the line of fire slowly licking its way across the

T.V.A. News Letter

TVA sold 36.7 billion kilowatt hours of electricity in the fiscal year ending June 30, approximately the same amount as last year, the Tennessee Valley Authority said today. Well over half of the power is sold—29.4 billion kwh, or 52 percent—went to the area's Federal defense installations, primarily the Atomic Energy Commission.

The remainder of 27.3 billion kwh sold was for use in the region's 1 1/2 million homes, farms, businesses and industries. These sales were 2 1/2 billion kwh, or 10 percent, greater than last year by 2.8 billion kwh, or nearly 9 percent, because of reduced requirements of the AEC's plants at Oak Ridge and Paducah.

The total power required to meet the demands on the TVA system was 62.2 billion kwh during the fiscal year. In addition to the sales of 36.7 billion kwh, two billion were delivered to the Aluminum Company of America in return for electricity generated at the company's plants. 1.7 billion kwh were delivered to neighboring private utility systems, and the remainder of 1.8 billion kwh was absorbed in transmitting the power from the generating plants to the loads.

The TVA system requirements were supplied by the generation of 49.2 billion kwh in the hydro plants, 41.5 billion kwh in the steam plants, and 1.4 billion kwh received from other systems. Hydro generation was greater than for any previous 12 consecutive months in TVA's history. The record hydro generation was due to the unusually favorable rainfall during the year in terms of both the amount of rain and the manner in which it was distributed throughout the year.

Covington, Tenn., in the extreme western part of the state, will be the 100th municipality to distribute TVA power when service starts some time in September, TVA reported today. There are 51 cooperative distributors.

A referendum on whether to continue to supply its municipal system with power from its own generating plant, or to buy electricity at wholesale from TVA, was held in Covington on December 18 of last year. The vote was 547 to 187 in favor of TVA power. The city's Board of Mayor and Aldermen ratified this action on March 3, 1958, and subsequently a contract between the city and TVA was negotiated.

The municipal system has approximately 2,000 customers, of whom 1,600 are residential.

Estimated visits to TVA dams and steam plants in July were 1,663,400, down approximately 272,000 over the same month last year, TVA said today. Kentucky Dam led the list as a tourist attraction for the first time this year with an estimated 284,600. Fontana Dam was second with 268,000; Pickwick Dam was third with 205,900; and Chickamauga Dam was fourth with 181,300.

Rainfall was heavy in the Tennessee Valley in July, TVA said today. The average through out the basin was 6.74 inches, compared with a 65-year average for the month of 4.93 inches. The fall was slightly heavier in the area west of Chattanooga than east of that city, 6.96 inches compared with 6.53 inches.

Highest recordings were Wheeler Dam 13.34 inches; Decatur, Ala. 11.83 inches; and Hiwassee

Lloyd, despite earlier support expressed by his prime minister, Harold Macmillan, said he doubted the value of summit talks for which Russia plucked all year, only to back down when the United States and Britain proposed a heads of government meeting in the U. N. Security Council.

"I have always been doubtful about the wisdom of the great powers trying to prescribe remedies for the problems of small countries in particular areas," he said. "There was also the doubt whether such negotiations would be used by the Soviet Union to increase tension rather than diminish it."

Critics Gromyko Lloyd lambasted Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for his speech Wednesday in which he denounced the United States and the United Kingdom for "aggression" in the Middle East.

On the other hand, Lloyd said, "President Eisenhower's address was an admirable introduction. One delegate said to me afterwards, 'Well, you know, the last three minutes of Mr. Gromyko's speech were not so bad.' The other 31 minutes were certainly much to be regretted."

Lloyd's backing of Eisenhower's peace plan came after the Arab and Communist treacherously conceded that the President had outlined a constructive program to end the threat of war.

Minister Harold Macmillan. The Eisenhower plan also won praise for French political sources as an honest attempt to solve the problems of the Middle East. There was no immediate official reaction.

Informed sources said, however, Eisenhower's call for raising of living standards as a means of ensuring political stability had been well received in government circles. They pointed to the fact Eisenhower had pledged America's support for a Middle Eastern regional development organization—something France has long favored.

Newspapers throughout Europe, almost without qualification, editorially praised Eisenhower. But some expressed doubt the plan could be changed from words into deeds.

Dam 11.79 inches. Lowest readings were Cherokee Dam 2.65 inches; Norris Dam 4.09 inches; and Nolichucky Dam 4.21 inches. Runoff measured 1.39 inches at Chattanooga, compared with the long-range average of 1.34 inches. For the first seven months of the year it is 17.33 inches, slightly below the mean of 17.87 inches. At Kentucky Dam it measured 1.29 inches in July, compared with a mean of 1.10 inches. For seven months it has been 16.15 inches, under the long-range average of 17.64 inches.

TWO WEEKS TIME HEALS ALL WOUNDS—Mrs. Emma C. Bailey, 49, wealthy Salisbury, Md., widow, poses in Cincinnati, O., with her new husband, Thomas Cecil Priddy, 42, on their wedding day, two weeks after she turned him over to the FBI on "confidence man" charges. She said the accusation that he took $50,000 from her to "play the ponies" was just a lover's quarrel. Seems time healed all wounds.
